Crown Clay Roof Tiles

by BMI Roofing Systems

With over 100 years of experience selling premium clay roof tiles in over 50 countries in Europe and the rest of the world BMI Roofing Systems (Braas/Cobert/Monier) is the largest producer of high quality clay roof tiles and roof components in the world.

Our roof tiles inspired by Italian and Spanish landscapes, rustic Medieval Villages and the Mediterranean countryside are unique and beautiful. We bring the natural beauty of European clays and ageless craftsmanship with the most advanced technology to provide a superior product.

Our modern innovative designs and finishes as well as our wide array of colors will enhance and beautify any roof tile project. Let our Lifestyle Clay Series provide products and solutions based on the natural beauty of clay and the most advanced technology.

Quality and Performance Above All

All our products are subject to the most rigorous quality tests such as the Wind Tunnel that simulates wind and rain conditions found in the most extreme areas of the world. These tests exceed the requirements of the strict European norms. Tests are performed at the Monier Technical Center in Germany, a leading research and development center with a deep expertise in roof physics and the most advanced testing facilities in the roofing industry.

Clay Tile

Our products can endure the most extreme conditions as proven by being a Class A Fire Rated product and the only Clay roof tile in the market that passes and exceeds the severe FM 4473 Impact Test with a Class 4 Rating on our Toledo and Monaco profiles. (Test Protocol: 2 inch ice ball is shot 2 times in 3 places at over 100 ft./second at a distance of 3 feet).

This certification may allow you to qualify for specific insurance deductions on your home insurance policy.

Our roof tiles offer protection for your investment even under the most extreme weather.

Disclaimer

After constant exposure to environmental elements, the color of the roof tiles can change over time and may appear lighter compared to its original installation date. This happens by the effects of weathering and accumulation of dust and debris in the roof area. This effect can happen to any other clay products that are exposed to the environment.

The colors printed in this catalog may vary from actual colors. Before selecting your product, we recommend you see and approve physical samples of the roof tile. In spite of our strict quality control there can be slight variations in tones. When these variations are distributed over the entire roof they contribute considerably to the unique beauty of each project. To prevent patterning we recommend taking roof tiles randomly from different pallets and blending them throughout the roof area.

The specifications contained in this catalog do not constitute in any way a warranty of our tiles. Crown only warranties the quality of our products. Services and installation provided or manufactured by others are not included. For our complete Clay Limited Product Warranty information visit our website at crownrooftiles.com.

Product availability may change without notice.
